VOLUME XXI

COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1918.

NUMBER 31

OVER THE TOP.

The Quota for Adair County, Two Thousand Dollars, Swelled by Patriotic Citizens.

BIG CROWD, SPLENDID ADDRESSES.

The number of people who came to Columbia, last Thursday, to listen to patriotic speeches and to contribute to the Red Cross Drive, has been variously estimated, but few putting the number less than two thousand.

The amount allotted to the county was two thousand dollars, one thousand of that amount had already been raised by Judge W. W. Jones, leaving one thousand for the people to pay in Thursday, but before adjournment that sum was exceeded by several hundred dollars, making the amount paid in by the good people of Adair county about $2,500.

It was the most enthusiastic crowd ever gathered in Columbia, and to give our readers from a distance, an idea of its magnitude, we will have only to state that the large courtroom and the side rooms of the courtroom were filled and jammed, everybody standing, as close as sardines in a box. Upon the outside there were several hundred who could not gain entrance to the building.

Just before the noon hour Mr. B. G. Nelson, of Hopkinsville, made a short address, setting forth the work of the Red Cross. The audience was then dismissed until 1 o'clock, and when the bell tapped at that hour, within ten minutes there were not standing room in the large auditorium.

Rev. B. T. Watson, in a few appropriate remarks called the meeting to order, introducing Prof. J. P. Alexander, of Bowling Green, who graphically portrayed the great work that was being done by the Red Cross and how cheerfully the people were contributing to the noble cause. He stated that the crew who was with him was meeting with success at every point.

Rev. R. B. Grider, of Bowling Green, was the next speaker. He was full of enthusiasm and spoke with the spirit and understanding. He pictured the unspeakable Huns, and the outrages they were perpetrating upon the innocent, in the very strongest language. Every body in the audience was carried away with enthusiasm, cheering the speaker continuously. When he closed an announcement was made that there were hundreds upon the outside who could not gain entrance to the courtroom, and it was resolved to repair to the lawn of Judge W. W. Jones, to finish the program.

A flag bearer started with the Stars and Stripes, and in ten minutes the large yard of Judge Jones was filled with a mass of humanity. Reaching the lawn Mr. Alexander again made a few remarks, introducing Gunner J. H. Henshaw, of Hamilton, Canada, who is a soldier in the Canadian army, and who lost his left leg in the battle of Vimy Ridge. He did not claim to be a speaker, and was too modest to lay claim to his heroic deeds. He told in a few words how the fighting was done and how determined were the allies to lick the Huns. In the course of his remarks he said there were only two kinds of Germans; "the dead ones and those that were going to be dead before the war closed." He has a manly face and was greatly admired.

The time having arrived to take subscriptions, donations were called for, Rev. Grider and Alexander speaking at intervals. In a few minutes from $1,400 to $1,500 were raised, and as above stated makes Adair county's contribution in this drive about twenty-five hundred dollars.

There are some people in Adair county who are not able to subscribe money when calls are made, but their hearts are with the cause, and would willingly hand in their bit if it were possible for them to do so. There are others, some here in Columbia, who have not contributed a cent, who are amply able to give. To refuse to help the government and the boys in the trenches in a time like this, is an evidence that they have but little interest, if any, in their country's cause.

All honor to the day and the many noble men and women, who are giving apart of their earnings to assist in caring for the wounded and maimed allied soldiers, who are fighting their cause, and who when they return will be crowned with glory, and who will be given the names of the slackers in the greatest war that was ever waged.

Benediction, by Eld. Z. T. Williams.

Four addition, by confession and baptism, to the Presbyterian Church Sunday.

CIRCUIT COURT

Oliver Barnett, Charged With Malicious Shooting, and Jeff Jones, Murder, Acquitted.

A FEW CIVIL CASES FOR THIS WEEK.

Oliver Barnett, charged with maliciously shooting Jesse Atwood, was given a trial last week and acquitted.

The trial of Jeff Jones, charged with the murder of Frank Holt, came on last Friday. Jones & Barnett and L. C. Winfrey represented the defense, A. A. Huddleston and W. A. Coffey the Commonwealth. There were a great many witnesses on both sides, but the testimony for the prosecution was mostly circumstantial. The case was argued Saturday night, and Sunday morning the jury was given the papers and went to their room. In about one and a half hours they filed into the court room with a verdict of acquittal. Only one ballot was taken.

Notice.

The Adair County Board of Education will let three school houses at the lowest responsible bidder on June 8, 1918, at my office at 1:30 p. m. We are ready to receive sealed bids at any time.

Noah Loy, Superintendent.

Baptist Revival, Great Crowd Sunday Night.

In one of the greatest sermons ever heard in Columbia and to one of the largest audiences ever assembled for religious worship, on Sunday evening in the Baptist church, Rev. N. F. Jones made plain to his assembled hearers God's plan of the redemption of man from the bondage of the transgression of law. He set forth clearly Divine Law as a Biblical fact, explained sin as the transgression of law, the sinner's need of redemption from the penalty of law, from the curse of the law, from the power of the law, and from his own iniquity. "The manner of man's redemption is by the shed blood of Jesus Christ, who was wounded for our transgressions, and upon whom God placed the penalty of our iniquities and sins." The text taken from concordance scripture found in Galatians and in that most beautifully written prophesy of Isaiah 53 was profoundly handled by the speaker, and yet the way of salvation made sufficiently simple and plain for a little child to understand.

Much interest is being taken in the meeting, and the song services conducted by Mr. C. R. Phillips, of Owensboro, are attracting large and appreciative audiences as the revival progresses. Mr. Phillips is not only a great singer and soloist, but powerful as an evangelist, tho he is a layman and has been a traveling man of commerce by profession. The meetings will continue thru the remainder of this week, and perhaps longer if the interest of the people should warrant its continuance. The morning services are at 10 o'clock, and the evening at 8:15.

Wanted.

I want to buy a set of corn-mill burrs Size, 14 to 18 G. W. Helm, 31-4t. Montpelier, Ky.

Memorial Day.

At Union church yard on May 30th, beginning with beautifying the grounds, at 8 o'clock a. m. Dinner at 12 o'clock, noon. Memorial addresses after dinner. Also patriotic addresses in keeping with the President's proclamation, and a good roads address by Judge Baker. Every body interested in the cemetery and good roads expected.

B. T. Watson.

All parties owing tuition and board to the Lindsey-Wilson will please be ready to settle. I am calling upon all who owe. Elmer Ashby, 31-1t.

Prof. C. R. Phillips, of Owensboro, arrived last Tuesday night and on Wednesday commenced conducting the song service in the meeting now in progress at the Baptist church. He is a splendid singer and his services are adding to the interest of the meeting. Rev. Jones is preaching fine sermons and the service will continue over next Sunday.

JOINED COLORS.

Fifty-Seven Adair County Boys Left for Camp Taylor Monday, All in Fine Spirits.

HUNDREDS OF FRIENDS SAW THEM START

The following young men answered to their names last Sunday afternoon and entered the service of the United States and on Monday morning left for Camp Taylor:

F. B. Patton, A. D. Taylor, C. F. Leftwich, S. H. Absher, Azro Hadley, Norman R. Christie, Nelson M. Ellis, Lester Pendleton, Jo B. Leftwich, Tobie Beard, D. E. Bell, V. E. Edwards, J. T. Comes, Carl Coomer, Geo. Hood, Vanis R. Morrison, W. A. Pike, W. N. Thomas, O. B. Grant, Fred T. Collins, H. L. Martin, J. E. Jones, Ben Banks, J. M. Henson, Asa Corbin, W. H. Fudge, Elmer Redman, Harry H. Allen, Leslie Willis, T. H. Sanders, D. E. Sanders, Loney Antle, Virgil Grant, C. D. Cheatham, T. I. Smith, Jr., V. T. Whitlock, N. C. Chelf, J. B. Loy, J. T. Atchley, Ernest England, W. L. England, J. T. Tupman, Guy Richardson, E. C. Beard, Wm. D. Murrell, Lucian Brockman, Charley Tupman, R. P. Grimsley, H. B. Ford, J. E. Watson, P. P. Antle, Garlan Pickett, S. P. Huddleston, J. S. Breeding, M. H. Lewis, A. Smith Gill.

The large court auditorium was crowded with relatives and friends Sunday afternoon, and after the boys had enrolled Judge Herriford called for speeches, and the following gentlemen spoke in the order named: Gordon Montgomery, Judge J. C. Carter, Rev. B. T. Watson, and Barksdale Hamlett. The speakers did not take up a great deal of time, but all spoke with enthusiasm, and from the countenances of the young soldiers, they were certainly gratified with the cheering words directed to them, and also that they were well pleased with the strong denunciations of the armies of the unspeakable Huns.

They all left about the noon hour Monday, carrying the blessings of all patriotic-country-loving people of Adair county.

Many prayers are now being offered for their safe return, filled with stories of the heroic deeds of soldiers of the American army.

Another Oil Company for Adair County.

Mr. Geo. H. Palmer, of Cleveland, Ohio, who was here in Columbia recently and took up some oil leases, and is soon to take up more, has formed a company up in Cleveland for the purpose of developing land in Adair county for oil, and will soon be on the ground. He looks for good results to be had in this county, especially if it was gone after in the right way. All it will take to make a success of this field and get the shipping facilities is the production of oil, then in return the town of Columbia will see a great boost, and it certainly does deserve it. Mr. Palmer has just returned from the Kansas fields, where he has considerable production. He says that he much prefers this territory, taking it as a whole.

Mr. Joseph Kreis, geologist for the Southern Oil & Refining Co., and the Western Oil Syndicate Co., of Denver, Col., is expected here the first of this week, to make several new locations for drilling. Mr. Kreis states that his companies are very enthusiastic over the prospects in Adair county and that they will do considerable drilling here this summer and fall.

The Wyoming-Kentucky Petroleum Co., Denver, Col., have contracted for the drilling of three wells on Harrods Fork creek, drilling to begin as soon as machinery can be moved to the location.

Mr. I. T. Honnold, manager for the above company, has taken over the Moss lease, near Gradyville, and will have the old well cleaned out and put to pumping. All of these sections will be given a thorough test.

The Glen Pool Oil Co., of Denver, Col., has been figuring with local parties here with the view of getting a well stated in the Neatsburg section June 1st.

Mr. Elmo Pearce, of Blackwell, Okla., who has considerable holdings in Adair county, is expected here in a few days to make locations and arrangements for drilling on his leases.

Drilling is progressing nicely on Southern Oil & Refining Co.'s well No. 1, on the Hadley farm and is expected to come in this week.

C. E. Bonwell's well No. 1 on the Tedder farm, north of Kniffey, is shut down on account of a broken stem.

GET READY.

Big Meeting in Masonic Circles Saturday, June 22, Celebration of St. John's Day.

GOOD MUSIC, AND GOOD EATING.

St. John's Day comes on the 24th of June, but Saturday, the 22nd will be the most convenient for the meeting. There will be a number of local speakers, and Dave Jackson, the Grand Secretary, writes that he will be here to make an address. All the lodges in the county will participate. It has been agreed that the Fair Grounds is the most desirable place for the gathering.

Registration Notice.

Notice is hereby given to persons who have arrived to the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, to appear at the office of the Local Board, in Columbia, Adair county, Ky., on June 5, 1918, for the purpose of registering for the selective service, as per act of Congress of May 20, 1918.

Local Board Adair County Kentucky. By Walker Bryant, Sec.

Will Come to Columbia.

The people of this community will be glad to learn that Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Goodman will again become residents of this city. In this move Rowena loses and Columbia gains Mr. Goodman has become the owner of the residence on Bonar Heights now occupied by Mr. H. B. Ingram, which he purchased from said Ingram last Wednesday, consideration, $3,000, possession to be given the first of November. He also purchased the same day the farm owned by J. A. English, lying on the Burkesville road, two miles from Columbia, consideration a little over five thousand dollars. Possession of this property will be given first of January.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodman formerly lived here, and they are that character of people our community are ever ready to give the glad hand.

Notice.

I have a Bliss, Ky., a stray calf. Owner may claim and pay for trouble and expense. Bill Montgomery, 31-1t.

Compliments to Mr. G. R. Reed.

The following letter to Mr. G. R. Reed, local manager in the Red Cross Drive, was received from headquarters St. Louis, a few days ago:

My dear Mr. Reed: I want to personally congratulate you and the organization of Adair county over your success in the Third Liberty Loan Campaign. The figures that we have received may be incorrect, but we are sure at least that they lean to the side of conservatism of your quota of approximately 163 per cent.

Please also congratulate, for me, the people of your county, who through their subscriptions and energetic work have proved their loyalty and determination to back up our boys who are sacrificing themselves for the liberty and freedom which we are to enjoy.

The State of Kentucky, with an oversubscription of approximately 184 per cent., shows a remarkable record. The Eighth Federal Reserve District has been advertised throughout the nation as foremost in the contest for supremacy and I felicitate you on your part in bringing about this great measure of success.

I realize the great amount of work which your Organization has put in; perhaps the many difficulties which you have had to overcome. It has been a real fight, but the people have responded well and it is a comfortable feeling to know that a national good has come out of the effort.

Yours sincerely, W. R. Compton, Chairman.

BIG HAUL OF MEAT.

Thieves Enter the Smoke-house of John Bledsoe, Creelsboro, and Steal $300 Worth.

BLOODHOUNDS UPON THE TRAIL.

Last Tuesday night thieves entered the meat house of John Bledsoe, who lives near Creelsboro, and carried off three hundred dollars worth of meat. A runner was sent post haste to St. Marys where he secured a bloodhound, passing through here about 2 o'clock Wednesday with the dog, with the hope that the thieves would be run down. The meat was evidently hauled away in a wagon.

St. John's Day.

As requested by the Grand Master of the State of Kentucky, a meeting of the committee of the following Lodges of Adair county: Hood Tam-pico, Glensfork, Gradyville, Casey Creek, Breeding and Columbia, was held with Columbia Lodge, No. 96, and it was unanimously agreed to hold a St. John's celebration, on the 22nd of June, 1918, at Columbia, Kentucky.

The chairman, Bro. A. G. Todd, appointed the following brethren committee on arrangement and they adopted the following resolutions:

1st That we obtain the use of the old Fair Ground for the 22nd day of June.

2nd That the members of Cane Valley Band, together with Columbia musicians, be employed to furnish music.

3rd That the services of Rev. Z. T. Williams, O. P. Bush, Dr. Watson, J. R. Garnett, Gordon Montgomery, of Columbia, and Attorney General James Garnett, of Louisville, and others as speakers.

4th That Horace Jeffries correspond with James Garnett and make arrangements for the other speakers.

L. Akin, Bingham Moore, J. W. Jones, Committee.

Road Meeting.

On Wednesday evening, May 29, 1918, at 7 o'clock, J. B. Burton's Store.

On Thursday evening May 30, at 7 o'clock, Goodin's Cross Roads.

On Friday evening May 31, at 7 o'clock, Eunice.

If you want to extend the improvement of the Columbia and Liberty road, don't fail to attend these meetings. Speakers will be present to explain pending propositions. Don't fail to be present.

C. S. Harris, 30-2t.

Memorial Services.

The residents of Columbia will meet in the cemetery next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Everybody bring or send flowers. A suitable program has been arranged.

WANTED:—Reliable salesman to call on Garages, Factories and Stores. Good paying, permanent position for the right man. Line nationally advertised. Milwaukee Tank Works, 31-1t. Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Not True.

It has been circulated in Columbia that Judge J. C. Carter was not taking any interest in the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., and also that he refused to buy United States Bonds. After Judge Carter's patriotic speech before the soldier boys Sunday, The News called and asked him about the report. He said: "I have been for the prosecution of the war since the United States entered it, and I have, perhaps, invested more money in bonds, and have given more money to the Red Cross and the Y. M. C. A., than any man in Monroe county." Judge Carter wants the people to know that he is for the flag and for all for which it stands.

I have a good milch cow, fresh, for sale. G. M. Henson, 31-1t. Dunnville, Ky. R. F. D. 1.

Children and Young People's Day at Union next Sunday. Special sermon by the pastor, Rev. B. T. Watson. He will also preach a Gradyville Sunday night.

LOST.—A pair of glasses between Pettisfork and the lane leading to W. T. Dohoney's. The finder will be paid for same. Duff Thomas.

STRICT RULING.

Amendment to Draft Regulations Announced by General Crowder.

ELIGIBLE MEN MUST WORK OR FIGHT.

Special from Washington—dated May 23, says:

"Every man of draft age must work or fight after July 1, under a drastic amendment to the selective service regulations announced to-day by Provost Marshal General Crowder.

Not only idlers, but all draft registrants engaged in what are held to be non-useful occupations, are to be haled before local boards and given the choice of a new job or the army.

WORK OR FIGHT.

It had been known for some time that some form of 'work or fight' plan had been submitted to President Wilson, but there had been no intimation that it was so far-reaching in scope. Both the Military authorities and Department of Labor officials believe that it will go a long way toward solving the labor problem for farmers, shipbuilders and munition makers, and will end for the present, at least, talk of conscription of labor. The announcement to-day gives notice significantly that the list of non-useful occupations will be extended from time to time as necessity requires.

CROWDER'S STATEMENT.

The statement of the Provost Marshal General's office follows:

Provost Marshal General Crowder today announced an amendment to the selective service regulations which deals with the great question of compelling men not engaged in a useful occupation immediately to apply themselves to some form of labor contributing to the general good. The idler, too, will find himself confronted with the alternative of finding suitable employment or entering the army.

"This regulation provides that after July 1 any registrant who is found by a local board to be a habitual idler or not engaged in some useful occupation shall be summoned before the board, given a chance to explain, and in the absence of a satisfactory explanation to be inducted into the military service of the United States.

BOARDS AUTHORIZED.

"Any local board will be authorized to take action whether it has original jurisdiction of the registrant or not; in other words, any man loafing around a pool-room in Chicago may be held to answer to a Chicago board, even though he may have registered in New York and lived there most of his life.

"The regulations which apply to idle registrants will be deemed to apply also to gamblers of all descriptions and employes and attendants of bucket shops and race tracks, fortune tellers, clairvoyants, palmists and the like, who for the purpose of the regulations shall be considered as idlers.

"(A)—Persons engaged in the serving of food and drink, or either, in public places, including hotels and social clubs.

"(B)—Passenger elevator operators and attendants, doormen, footmen and other attendants of clubs, hotels, stores, apartment houses, office buildings and bathhouses.

"(C)—Persons, including ushers and other attendants, engaged and occupied in, and in connection with games, sports and amusements, excepting actual performers in legitimate concerts, operas or theatrical performances.

"(D)—Persons employed in domestic service.

"(E)—Sales clerks and other clerks employed in stores and other mercantile establishments.

"Men who are engaged as above or who are idlers will not be permitted to ask relief because of the fact that they have drawn a late order number or because they have been placed in Class II, III, or IV, on the grounds of dependency. The fact that he is not usefully employed will outweigh both of the above conditions.

"It is expected that the list of non-useful occupations will be extended from time to time, as necessity will require, so as to include persons in other employments."

Mr. J. P. Dohoney, who has been in Texas and Oklahoma for several years, is now meeting his Columbia friends.

How to Make Oatmeal Bread

Healthful to Eat—Saves the Wheat

1 cup flour
1 1/2 cups corn meal
1 teaspoon salt
5 teaspoons Royal Baking Powder
2 tablespoons sugar

1 cup cooked oatmeal or rolled oats
2 tablespoons shortening
1 1/2 cups milk
No eggs

Sift together flour, corn meal, salt, baking powder and sugar. Add oatmeal, melted shortening and milk. Bake in greased shallow pan in moderate oven 40 to 45 minutes.

This wholesome bread is easily and quickly made with the aid of

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

If used three times a week in place of white bread by the 22 million families in the United States, it would save more than 900,000 barrels of flour a month.

FOOD WILL WIN THE WAR

From Georgia.

Atlanta, May 17, 1918.

Editor News:

This afternoon session of the General Conference was one of the most interesting of the whole conference. Most of the afternoon was taken up in the ordination of the new Bishops. The Bishops, in their episcopal addresses, recommended the election of five new men, but the Conference, on motion, decided to elect six. The following were elected: Drs. John M. Moore, William F. McMurtry, Urban V. W. Darlington, Frank N. Parker, Horace M. DuBose, and W. N. Ainsworth.

On the following day, Dr. Parker, in a speech to the General Conference, that seemed to come out of an honest heart, declined to accept the high office of Bishop. The college of Bishops, with his many friends, insisted on him to accept the office, but he would not be persuaded to be ordained. He gave as his reasons, first: His health has not been very good for some time, and the duties imposed upon a Bishop being so great he felt himself physically unable for the heavy work. His second reason was, he was not sure he was called to the office of a Bishop.

Dr. Parker is a son of Bishop Parker, and a brother of Dr. F. N. Parker, who is our Epworth League Secretary. His father lived a very short time after he was elected Bishop. Dr. Parker is now one of the Professors of Emory University. After Dr. Parker refused ordination Dr. James Cannon, Jr., was elected Bishop.

In the history of the church Dr. Parker is the third man to refuse to accept the office of Bishop. Joshua Soul, in 1820, was elected, but because of an enactment of a law, which he believed to be unconstitutional, refused to be ordained, but four years later the General Conference repealed that law and elected him again and he accepted and was ordained.

Several years ago the Conference elected A. G. Haygood, but he was engaged in some school work which he thought claimed his first attention, and he did not accept the office. By the next General Conference his duties with reference to school were performed, and he was again elected and ordained.

In the selection of the new

Bishops Kentucky is well represented. Bishop Moore, elected on the first ballot, is a Kentuckian, born and reared in Butler county, but is now living in Texas. He is highly educated and a splendid Christian gentleman. Bishop Darlington was born and reared in Kentucky. He is a fine fellow—everybody's brother. I feel I know him somewhat being the pastor of his sister and family four years. Bishop McMurtry, who has been a great Secretary of our Board of Church Extension for a number of years, is a strong man and will be felt in the College of Bishops. Dr. DuBose, one of the strongest men of the church, thoroughly orthodox, a great preacher, will adorn the office of Bishop. Bishop Ainsworth, one of Georgia's honored sons, a fine preacher, will fit into the new harness well. Bishop Cannon, of Virginia, one of the brainiest men of the church, a man who knows church law, will add greatly to the College of Bishops.

Methodism is very strong in Atlanta. The Methodist Church has a membership of 24,000 or 25,000 members. It is the strongest church in the city. The Baptist is next in numerical strength, with a membership of about 12,000 members.

This is the home of the Candler. Mayor Asa Candler gave to Emory University one million dollars. I passed Bishop Candler's home a few days ago, a nice home around which the flowers were blooming profusely, between the city and the University.

If I may not be too lengthy some of your readers might be interested in some things in and about the city of Atlanta. In the yard of the Capitol is the statue of John B. Gordon, of the Civil war fame. He was one of Georgia's great generals and statesmen. Inside of the building is the imposing statue of Benjamin H. Hill, one of Georgia's most brilliant sons. One afternoon I went out to see the Cyclorama of the battle of Atlanta, fought between Atlanta and Decatur. That was a very bloody battle. About 15,000 men on both sides lost their lives. As one looks upon that marvelous painting it appears so real the sight becomes almost sickening. Rev. S. P. Hulse, father of Rev. T. L. Hulse, was in that battle.

Camp Gordon is here where many soldiers are waiting to be

I have been out to Fort McPherson where there are 1,411 German prisoners. I was allowed to walk around and look through the wires at them, but not to go very close. Soldiers on the outside, heavily armed, were constantly keeping a keen eye upon them and visitors passing by. They were working some of them. I saw them bring in two large auto trucks filled with Germans and turn them inside the tall wire fence for their dinner. They took them out and in under heavy guard. They expect 1,100 more very soon. They look like men who are strong and well trained for the destruction of men. Their prison homes look very much like the houses at Camp Gordon. I thought if Germany only had a heart of flesh, the prisoners of the United States and our Allies would not be so cruelly treated over there.

Yesterday I went to Stone Mountain, 16 miles out from Atlanta, the most interesting place I have visited since coming here. Stone Mountain is the largest solid rock in the world. It is 16 miles east of Atlanta, one of the nation's wonders, one mile up from base to summit, and 8 miles around the base. They began the gigantic task of carving the Confederate Memorial Monument on the steep side of it. This great undertaking has been checked by the war. From the top one can see the Kenesaw mountains, forty miles from Atlanta, where another bloody battle was fought during the Civil war. In any direction from the top of the mountain one can see fifty miles, and feast the eyes upon magnificent scenery indescribable. To behold this world wonder is worth the travel of a long journey.

This has been a very important and interesting gathering of our great church. I count it a great privilege to be here. One of the very interesting features of the Conference was the address of Josephus Daniel, the Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Daniel is an old time Methodist. He really took a text and preached to us. The Conference has time after time, over and over, expressed the loyalty of the church to the Government, willing to give her money and her sons to win the war, and secure liberty to humanity,

S. G. Shelly.

Hatcher.

One of the strongest gas producing wells in this section was brought in this week, on the farm of Mr. James Bailey, four miles south of Campbellville. An eight inch bit was used, and it was put down to a depth of 300 feet. It was set on fire Thursday evening from the lighting of a cigar, by a party who was near. Up to the present no plans have been devised for putting out the fire, and hundreds of dollars of gas are being devastated. The blaze is leaping at least fifty feet into the heavens, and lights up the surrounding country so well that print can be read, standing four miles from the well. This well is located not far from a number of good producers.

On account of not heeding the admonition of our agricultural agent, and almost every paper published, the farmers are reaping the results of this negligence in the germination of their seed corn. It is a very expensive experiment to take chances of producing a good crop, when you are in doubt as to the advisability of using such seed. At least one-half of the crop will have to be replanted in order to get the desired stand.

Never in the history of this county has the outlook for wheat been so flattering. An unusual acreage was sown, and scarcely any was winter killed. If not hindered by unfair weather, this country ought to produce twice the number of bushels as any previous year. Everyone seems to be greatly encouraged over crop prospects, notwithstanding the setback given by so many of our noble young men being called for war purposes.

Some tobacco has been transplanted, and when the next seasonable weather comes, a good per cent., will be placed in the ground. It is a splendid money crop, as the assets of the banks indicate, but if more attention was given to other essentials, the welfare of the growing up generation would be greatly advanced.

Rev. Frank Arnold, a noted evangelist, of Kansas City, is conducting a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church, Campbellville. A great deal of interest is being manifested.

Two unthoughtful colored miscreants stoned the dwelling of Mr. J. D. Stegers, Thursday night, about 8:30 o'clock. Mr. Stegers has been lying at the point of death for quite awhile, and this episode seemed to have disturbed more than any other happening. He has a heart trouble, and had to have extra attention given him at this time. The guilty parties were arrested and placed under a $200 bond for their appearance at an examining trial on the 25th inst.

The Baptist Academy closed this week, with a series of entertainments, which were very much appreciated by the attendance of large audiences.

There were 24 applicants for common school diplomas, and sixteen for teachers' certificates.

Out of No Man's Land

By HARRY IRVING GREENE

Father:

This wonderful letter that I am writing you—a miracle letter. I was hurt, badly, but I am going to get well. It happened like this—you know I am not allowed to name place or date.

No Man's Land! We were raiding it by night, three of us—scouting, prowling. It was as dark as the dungeons of Inferno, but often they sent up signal shells—roseate, bursting things that bathed all that evil land in a blood-red light. When their glare flared over us we had to stand as we were caught, hand or foot upraised—motionless objects in the red glow until the light snuffed out and all was dark once more.

We reached the German entanglements and began cutting them with our oiled clippers. We were careful, very careful, but we were not careful enough. They heard us. Over came two bombs.

The three of us went down in a row. Jack and Tom never knew what hit them. I was hurt too badly to be able to get up.

I lay there—all night—groaning—calling for help. Twenty feet away I could hear the boches in their trench laughing at me, cursing me.

Morning! My last. I could endure it no more. I was dying—bleeding. I said my last prayer.

And then!

Since the dawn of time I do not believe the world has seen a more glorious thing. From the hill tops our artillery laid down a box barrage fire and under it, heads raised like emperors and shoulders squared, came six men, stretcher bearers. As though they had been on parade they came forth in broad daylight into the very teeth of the enemy and picked up what was left of Jack, Tom and me.

As though we had been their own brothers they bore us back, swiftly, gently. Then do you know what those Hunns did?

Opened fire on us—the dead, the bearers of the dead and a man who lay quivering at the threshold of death. Two of the six bearers went down. The other four brought them back along with what was left of Jack, Tom and me.

And when I awoke in the hospital after the operation, deathly sick but back from the nightmare-land and with the sunlight upon me, whom do you think I saw bending over me, the red cross upon her sleeve, babbling, laughing, crying, kissing me?

JANE!

And I had never known that she had come over! Had never got her letter.

And we are here together and I am going to get well. An hour ago she held out her hand, and upon one finger was still the little ring I gave her before I left. I am going to have a stone set in it—you know what that means. Though somewhat disfigured I am still in the ring.

And so is Jane, JIM.

PRESENCE.

O mother—mother of mine—
What a wonderful mother you are!
High in the midnight heaven
Quivers a cool white star—
I feel your hand on my forehead,
I see the light of your smile—
I am sleepy, mother—
I shall forget—for awhile.

Hark! There the guns have awakened.
Madly they stamp and roar—
Snarling their hungry impatience—
Glutinous lions of war.
Seventy yards through the clamor,
Under a curtain of fire,
Wet with the mists of the morning,
Glimmers the German wire.

"Charge!" through the throbbing silence,
After the crash and boom,
Into the pallid daybreak—
Over the edge of doom.
Low on the far horizon
Trembles a faint white star—
O mother—mother of mine—
What a beautiful mother you are!

Helps Sick Women

Cardui, the woman's tonic, helped Mrs. William Eversole, of Hazel Patch, Ky. Read what she writes: "I had a general breaking-down of my health. I was in bed for weeks, unable to get up. I had such a weakness and dizziness, . . . and the pains were very severe. A friend told me I had tried everything else, why not Cardui? . . . I did, and soon saw it was helping me . . . After 12 bottles, I am strong and well."

TAKE

The Woman's Tonic

Do you feel weak, dizzy, worn-out? Is your lack of good health caused from any of the complaints so common to women? Then why not give Cardui a trial? It should surely do for you what it has done for so many thousands of other women who suffered—it should help you back to health.

Ask some lady friend who has taken Cardui. She will tell you how it helped her. Try Cardui.

CANNING CLUB FOR ADAIR COUNTY.

It was an ill omen for the progress and future prosperity of Adair county when our Fiscal Court, last week, refused to follow the lead of the County Board of Education in making a small appropriation to make it possible to meet the offer of the government on a fifty fifty proposition to furnish the county an organizer and demonstrator of home economics and food conservation.

The green vegetable and fruit season are near at hand. Tons of valuable food stuffs are wanted in the county every summer and will be wasted this Summer for lack of knowledge of the proper and practical science of preserving and canning. At this season and in the green condition the producers of Adair county have no market for these products. While this is true now next Winter the people will be actually buying canned goods shipped into the county from other counties and localities that have shown the wisdom of not only becoming self-supporting by saving and conservation in the season of plenty, but have found a source of splendid revenue and profit to the county.

There should be a canning club and other clubs for conservation of wasted foodstuffs in every community and school district in the county. The Fiscal Court of Adair county should need no enlightenment as to the importance of taking advantage of the Government's liberal offer to pay half the cost of making these organizations, and in addition the placing of the government stamp of purity and market approval on the products so preserved. It has been found to be a paying proposition in every county where it has been introduced, and no progressive county in the United States has failed to see the wonderful results of public education and profit. It is to be hoped that our Fiscal Court will early wake up to the fact that as the representative servants of the people, it is incumbent upon them to disburse the peoples' revenues in ways that will bring the greatest benefits and profits to the people.

The death of General Catleman ends a career that blended the useful and the picturesque. In his youthful days, as a Confederate soldier, he took part in some of the most daring exploits of the Confederate cavalry under General Morgan, and after being captured in a particularly daring attempt was protected from death by Abraham Lincoln.

FARM TOOLS.

President Wilson has come to the rescue of the American farmer, and availing himself of the full powers of the national defense act, has by proclamation, placed under strict Government control the importation, manufacture, storage and distribution of all farm equipment.

All dealers in these commodities are required by the proclamation to obtain Federal licenses to do business. The Secretary of Agriculture, who is given jurisdiction, is clothed with complete authority to regulate the business and prevent profiteering in the selling of farm implements and equipment to the farmers. Licenses must be obtained on or before June 20th.

This action of the President is expected to go a long way toward meeting the complaints of the farmers who, appealed to by the Government on patriotic grounds to plant the utmost regardless of slim profits, have found themselves victimized by farm implement trusts and combines that have been found using the war demands on the farms to boost their prices.

A statement was published in last Tuesday's dailies to the effect that Senator Ollie M. James was lying dangerously ill in John Hopkins' Hospital, Baltimore, Md. Wednesday's papers said the report was incorrect; that Mr. James was on the highroad to recovery.

Gradyville.

We had plenty of rain this week.

A great deal of complaint of corn coming up bad in this section.

Quite a number of our people attended the speaking at Columbia last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arvest Hill and son, of Adairville, spent a few days with their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Strong Hill, of our city the first of the week.

Deputy Sheriff McClister was looking after some of our boys the first of the week.

W. B. Hill, Pratt's salesman, was at home a few days the first of the week.

Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Nell and their son made a trip to Louisville the first of the week.

Miss Ruth Hill is visiting her relatives at Adairville this week.

Luke Sherrill made a business trip to Greensburg last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. D. C. Wheeler sold, last week, to James Burris, one hundred dollars worth of Hens and has a good supply left on hands.

John Wes Sparks made a business trip to Edmonton last Tuesday. He reports the roads in a very bad condition.

Mrs. James Tinsley and children, of Louisville, who have been visiting here for the past month, returned home the first of the week.

We are glad to note that Rev. L. Vance and family are now citizens of our town, as he is our preacher in charge. He will be closer to his work.

Mrs. Thad Salmon started for Bogard, Mo., Tuesday, where she will spend several weeks, visiting her sister, Mrs. L. M. Wilmore.

G. H. Willis, one of our soldier boys, who is at home on a short furlough, called in to see us a day or so ago. He is looking fine and enjoys the soldier's life very much.

Mr. George Cheatham, of Milltown, was in our midst one day the first of the week, and bought a carload of hogs in this community at 1 1/2 cents of the Louisville market when received. The hogs will go on or before the first of June.

Mr. T. W. Dowell returned from Louisville the first of the week, where he had spent several days on the tobacco market, selling his purchase of tobacco and what he had raised on his farm. Mr. Dowell was highly pleased with his sales, averaging about 37 cents.

During the recent rains in this section, quite a number of our farmers to get all of their crop of tobacco set in this part of the county. While the majority of our corn come up bad, it has all been replanted and will be up in a few days. Our wheat and meadow grass never looked better and bids fair to make a bountiful yield.

One of the largest sales made from poultry since February the 1st, is reported by Mrs. O. W. Breeding, from the White Leghorn family of chickens. She sold from one hundred hens three hundred and seventy-eight dozen of eggs that brought her $100.00, and set forty dozen eggs and sold 80 hens that brought her $54.45.

Mrs. Julia Baker will leave in a few days for Liletown, where she will spend the heated months with her daughter, Mrs. Mills. She handed us a dollar to be used in helping clean off the cemetery at Union on the 30th, and regretted very much that it was impossible for her to be present on the occasion, but had not forgotten the importance of having the work done. Remember the time and place. Everybody come.

On the 1st Sunday in June, there will be special services at Union church for the benefit of the young people and children. Every young lady and gentleman and all the children should be present. You can not afford to miss this service. The sermon will be preached by Rev. B. T. Watson. Everybody invited to attend.

From North Carolina.

Shelby, May 25.

Editor News:—

In common with your other readers, I relish the historical and biographical sketches emanating from the pen of Judge Baker. Especially as pertaining to localities near King's Mountain. I hope to add something of educational and interest. This battle was very important for number of men engaged, and was the turning point in Revolution. The participants on American side were from the two Carolinas, Virginia, and what are now Kentucky and Tennessee. Draper's History of King's Mountain was the most comprehensive work extant, and was published at a financial loss just after centennial of this struggle, and I have seen the copy. It was a large, bound volume of about 450 pages. The officers were, Cleveland, for whom this county was named; Shelby, for whom our county seat was named; McDowell, whose memory is perpetuated in McDowell county; Williams, from

South Carolina; and Campbell, from Virginia, or what is now Kentucky.

You speak of Thomas White being a soldier of the Revolution which is correct; and Capt. Jas. White was a hero of King's Mountain. Both these men were among my ancestry on paternal side; and I have three volunteers in present war. Besides Col. Isaac Shelby having our county seat named in his honor, you remember that Isaac Shelby was first governor of Kentucky, and that Shelby county and Shelbyville, of Kentucky, were named in his honor, and that he later distinguished himself in Missouri where Shelby and Shelbyana attest the veneration in which he is held in that Commonwealth.

The mountain men from Virginia and Kentucky came on horseback; armed with Deckard rifles; so called from being made at Deckard, Pa., and noted for accuracy; while the men who carried them were probably best shots in the world as a body. They held a council of war at Quaker Meadow, on land in Burke county, of this State; now owned by John Lackey. Col. Patrick Furgeson was at Gilberton, four miles north of Rutherfordton, county seat of Rutherford county, which adjoins Cleveland on the west. Col. Furgeson was a brave, skillful officer, and was recruiting among the numerous Royalists found in the western counties of this State and upper South Carolina; and feeling was high among Patriots and Loyalists and retaliations and reprisals were of daily occurrence. Lord Cornwallis was at Charlotte, N. C., and it will be remembered that on May 20, 1775, Ephriam Brevard wrote the first Declaration of Independence, more than a year prior to immortal document penned by Jefferson, and national in its scope and effects. On account of guerilla tactics of people around Charlotte, Cornwallis termed it a "hornet's nest." The intention of Col. Furgeson and his contingent, was to join forces of Lord Cornwallis, at Charlotte, and he had 1,100 to 1,200 men. The mountain men had 1,100, and tried to intercept him. He learned from scouts of their designs, and occupied an eminence known as King's Mountain, and declared that from this position God Almighty could not dislodge him. But the intrepid Indian fighters were unawed and approached his rendezvous. Two hundred old men and boys were left to guard the horses and baggage, and 900 formed an attacking column of three portions. Col. Furgeson was brave, and gallantly met his assailants. He rode a white horse and directed the movements of his men by blowing a silver whistle. The withering and fatal fire of the mountain men cut wide gaps in his ranks, but he urged his followers to die fighting. As the men were being mowed down, DePuyster, next in command, hoisted the white flag in token of surrender. The intrepid Col. Furgeson galloped up, cut it down with his sword, and defiantly sounded the shrill signal for a counter attack.

His heroism had awakened the admiration of his foes; but sentiment was now banished. Ben Cleveland picked thirteen sharpshooters, and it proved to be an unlucky number for Patrick Furgeson. The next time they saw him galloping within rifle range, thirteen rifle balls struck him, and a stone monument marks where he fell. His grave is within sixty feet of where he died, and I never see the place but I glory in his valor. As for the Tories they hung, for them no minstrel raptures swell, so far as I am concerned. Some more were hung at "Gallows Oak," near New House, three miles of where I live, and Oren White, my brother, has last fragment of gallows oak, celebrated in song and story. At Biggerstaffs they hung some more, and while I deplore lynching, they deserved death. Then, as now, a commercial spirit made people "not care a d— what happened so it didn't happen to them," as the saintly Billy Sunday would say, and money and niggers constituted respectability. I hear a contemptible class here boast, "That the 'best' (rich) people here were all Tories." The man who worships the golden calf, or the gold of the calf does not appeal to me, and I would rather congregate with a decent baboon than with a servile, fawning, time-serving cuss who is blind to a spirit of patriotism and who has no God but Mammon.

Money is a nice thing to have, and a well-balanced citizen accumulates all that he can honestly, for the enjoyments of peace and the necessities of war require money or its equivalent. But I know men who will buy Liberty Bonds as a good investment, and bubble with vocal patriotism, who regard that as their part of the war. I rejoice that my county has gone "over the top" in every call; but men on the firing line is what it must finally require. Three of my sons are there, one with a broken leg.

As to King's Mountain, I live within 30 miles of this historic eminence, have taught 2 schools near the locality. I am thrilled with the reflection, that instead of having Tory ancestry hung

An Accident.

Last Wednesday night Mrs. Finis Phelps and children, who live on Burkesville street, narrowly escaped a serious accident. They were in a buggy returning home. Mr. Jack Young was on the pike with his machine which was standing still, the lights having gone out and which he was trying to start up. When the lights came on the buggy and occupants were close to the machine, and the flash scared the animal. The vehicle was wheeled round and Mrs. Phelps and her youngest child fell to the ground, Mrs. Phelps receiving several bruises, but the infant was not hurt. The other child, a little girl four years old, remained in the buggy, the mare going rapidly down the hill, the little girl hallooing "whoa, Nellie, whoa, Nellie!" The animal stopped near the Presbyterian Church, and the little child got out, and did not seem to be excited. No blame is attached to Mr. Young.

The Adair County News Company, incorporated under the laws of Kentucky, November 16, 1897, for a period of twenty-five years now gives notice of its purpose to dissolve said corporation on May 28th and any person or firm having just claims against said company is hereby notified to present same, with proof, at the office of said company, in Columbia, Ky., on or before the 28th day of May, 1918.

The Adair County News Company,
By C. S. Harris, Pres.

Located in Nelson County.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Hancock have purchased a well-improved farm located near Samuel's Depot in Nelson county, containing one hundred and fifty acres of land, at $90 per acre. Upon the farm is a good dwelling, barns, and all other necessary out-buildings. The water is fine and there is also plenty of fruit upon the plantation. Mr. and Mrs. Hancock are now in possession, having left Columbia some days ago. We commend them to the good people of Nelson county.

There have been several additions to the Baptist church since the meeting started.

A Correction.

Cane Valley, Ky., May 24, 1918.
Adair County News:

In your issue of the 22nd, inst., you say: "Dr. N. M. Hancock. Cane Valley, who has been quite sick for two or three months, improves very slowly."

For the benefit of my widely scattered acquaintances and friends will you say that my health this spring has been good, that I have been constantly busy trying to help the sick get well, and trying to keep the well from getting sick. And with those in my employ trying to raise more wheat, more corn, more mules, more cattle, more sheep and more hogs than ever before. That on the night of the 16th, inst., I was suddenly and unexpectedly stricken with a very severe acute appendicitis. I suffered the most intense agony for several hours.

Dr. Atkinson, of Cane valley, and Dr. Russell, of Columbia, promptly came to my aid. At this time, May 24th, I seem to be making a good recovery. Whether I will ever be able to resume the hard work of an active practice or not remains to be seen. I sincerely thank my many friends for their expressions of sympathy and kindnesses during my sickness.

Result of the Examination.

There were thirty applicants for teacher's certificates before the Board last week. Six failed and five quit. Eighteen received first-class certificates. Their names follow:

Elizabeth Carter, Eula Vaughan, Fannie Cabbell, Malcus Johnson, Vista Royse, Bessie Epperson, Horace Cundiff, Willie Petty, Grace Wolford, Valeria Campbell, Edgar Collins, Pearl Wolford, Loracy Wolford, Mary Riggin, Bessie Cabbell.

Six of the above were educated at the Baptist school, Campbellsville, the remainder at the Lindsey-Wilson.

Esther Whitlock took the examination, but she was too young to receive a certificate, being only 15. She made a grade of 92 7-11.

Horace Cundiff and Loracy Wolford made the highest grades, 94 7-11 each.

It is only a short time until wheat harvest. The crop is said to be extra good throughout the county.

Stephens Convicted.

Rollin Stephens, charged with seducing Bessie Goff, a female under twenty-one years of age under promise of marriage, was tried last week and convicted, the jury fixing his punishment at three years in the penitentiary. It was a hard fought case, Mr. J. F. Montgomery and Mr. L. C. Winfrey appearing for the defendant; Messrs. A. A. Huddleston, W. A. Coffey and Barksdale Hamlett for the Commonwealth. Soon after the verdict Mr. Stephens was remanded to jail. By marrying the girl he could escape imprisonment, or if the girl in open court would refuse to marry him before sentence is passed; he would escape.

Married on the Highway.

Last Friday morning Mr. Charles Miller Kelsey and Miss Carrie Lee Wilkerson, both of the Glenville locality, stopped in front of Eld. F. J. Barger's residence and informed the minister that they desired to get married. The necessary papers were handed the divine and the ceremony was pronounced. They announced that they would make a trip to Louisville and would be at home, to their friends, in a few days.

Mrs. Annie Brockman and children wish to extend their heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly assisted during the sickness and death of their husband and father.

Dave is an athlete and before he received a broken arm, was considered one of the coming wrestlers and football players of the South. His many friends here extend to him their congratulations, and ask that he for them tip his hat to the companion of his choice.

June 5th all young men who have become 21 years of age since June 5th, 1917, must register and become subjects of the draft. There will probably be near one hundred in Adair county who will have to register. No young man should disobey this order for the reason that if he should he would be dealt with, and the punishment is severe.

A daughter of Mr. C. C. Stephens, who lives near Miami, died last Thursday morning. She was about 17 years old and had been afflicted for some time.

Campbellsville, : : Kentucky.

Mr. Henry Robinson, of the Campbellsville bar, and Mr. Lilburn Phelps, of the Jamestown bar, were here in court last Wednesday. The latter was on his return from Bowling Green, where he had been an attorney in the Federal court. He represented three Russell county men who were arraigned, charged with moonshining. They were all acquitted.

In addition to the amounts already given by the First National Bank and the Bank of Columbia, on last Thursday the two institutions donated one hundred dollars each to the Red Cross Fund. "Cast your bread upon the waters and after many days it will return unto you."

Bob. Fletcher, colored, of Gradyville, has received a card from his son, George Fletcher, of Co. A., 515 Engineers Service, Battalion Station, that he has arrived safely overseas, and will soon be on the front somewhere in France.

Rev. Jones, who is doing the preaching for the revival at the Baptist church, is an able minister and a clear and forceful speaker. All who are in reach of the church should attend the services.

Notice.

Bishop Geo. O. Clements, of the A. M. E. Zion church, will preach at the court-house, in Columbia, Ky., 1st Sunday in June. Services will begin at 3 o'clock p. m. All are cordially invited to be present at this great gospel meeting. The choir will render good music. Rev. J. S. Dickerson, P. C.

PLEDGE WEEK---JUNE 24 TO 28

Upon advice of National Chairman F. A. Vanderlip and Federal Director J. D. Lyon, of the district embracing the State of Kentucky, the big June Drive, in which we are to secure pledges of the people for the balance of our quota of $50,000,000, has been fixed for June 24 to 28 next, instead of June 3 to 8, as announced previously.

Kentucky will put it "over the top" in this big drive, which is to terminate on the 28th, and which day President Wilson will be asked to proclaim "National War Savings Day" throughout the United States. Governor Stanley will be asked to issue a proclamation for the State of Kentucky, and the Mayor of Louisville and of every city in Kentucky will be requested to issue a proclamation to the people of his municipality.

County Chairmen from over Kentucky assembled in Lexington on Friday and heard the details of the plan for the big drive from the lips of Federal Director Lyon, Chairman J. E. Kavanaugh, of the Section of State Organization, and Ward Burgess, of Nebraska, who originated the idea, and who secured pledges for the entire quota of the State during a week's drive similar to that which is to be put on in Kentucky in June.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF MEETINGS OF KENTUCKY COUNCIL OF DEFENSE

War Savings workers throughout Kentucky will take notice of the splendid move of the State Council of Defense in calling War Conferences to be held at county seats throughout the State, beginning immediately, for the purpose of arousing the people to war conditions and enlisting their aid in the various Government and other valuable war activities.

Representatives of all war activities are urged and invited to participate in these Conferences and present their cause to those who are gathered together. These Conferences afford an especially splendid opportunity to War Savings workers in every county. Our campaign is on for the entire year. Many of these meetings will be held during the present month of May, and in such counties the County Chairman and his organization must co-operate most actively with the representative of the Council of Defense in getting up the meeting, as it will count very materially with you in the big June Drive which is just ahead of us. Where the Conference is to be held in a county during the time of the Drive it will be a big booster for our activity, and where it is to be held afterward, during the summer it will help to keep up interest in ours as well as the other war activities, and will materially help in your follow up campaign to see that those who pledge themselves in the June Drive meet their pledges and keep on saving and buying Thrift Stamps and War Savings Stamps.

A general program has been mapped out by the Kentucky Council of Defense, which doubtless will be varied in different communities, as special speakers are secured for occasions. The general program is as follows:

10:00 a. m.—A mass meeting will be held and the program will consist of devotional exercises, community singing, and speeches by noted patriots, thinkers and orators.

1:30 p. m.—The fathers, mothers, relatives, and all members of the families of the soldier boys who are already in military service, as well as all those who have boys who will be in the approaching draft, are urged to attend this meeting. A special speaker, who is in touch with the war situation and who has a stirring message of patriotism, will address the meeting. The public is cordially invited to be present.

3:00 p. m.—Forum: Subject, "The Different War Organizations." Representatives of the different war organizations, including Council of Defense, Food and Fuel Administrations, Liberty Loan, Women's War Work, War Savings, Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., Four-Minute Men, Chambers of Commerce, Educational and Agricultural Organizations and all other patriotic activities, are urged to be present and participate in the discussions. No representative should speak longer than ten minutes.

3:30 p. m.—Representatives of the different patriotic activities will be given an opportunity to call their workers into a special meeting for the purpose of studying their specific problems and perfecting their organizations.

7:30 p. m.—A mass meeting will be held and the program will consist of devotional exercises, community singing, patriotic music, and speeches by leaders of known reputation.

In presenting its program of exercises for the War Conferences, the Council of Defense puts it this way:

There is but one patriotic business before the liberty-loving people of the world today, and that is the monumental task of vanquishing an intoxicated militarism, of vindicating, perpetuating and defending human rights and liberties, and of carrying the flag of democracy to victory.

You can help win the war by attending the county war conference and studying the interpretations of the needs and the issues of the hour that will be made. You can help by using your influence in having a large delegation of citizens to attend from your community.

There is no one thing that will do more to awaken the patriotism of the people and make the Conference and all patriotic meetings a success than for the choirs of all the churches and the people of the entire community to assemble at mass meetings and engage in community singing. It is earnestly desired that the county council and all other patriotic organizations will get together in an earnest effort to develop community singing and make it a part of the program of the War Conference as well as a part of all patriotic programs which will be held from time to time in every section of the county. The Kentucky Council of Defense will furnish printed folders without cost containing the National Anthems and War Songs to all county councils desiring the same.

Continuing, under the heading, "Will You Help?" the Council of Defense sends out the following valuable suggestions:

The home can help by attending the Conference and by using its influence in having the members of every home to attend.

The school can help by organizing itself into a war of publicity committee with a view of promoting every war effort, developing a positive patriotism, practicing community singing, attending the war conference and participating in its work.

The church can help by delivering a patriotic sermon on the crisis of the hour, and by announcing the program of the war conference at its regular services, giving publicity to it and urging the people to attend.

The press can help by rendering invaluable assistance through its news and editorial columns, thereby giving publicity to the meeting and calling upon the people to give it earnest support.

The County Superintendent, who is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Council of Defense, can help by sending out a letter to the leading citizens of the county, especially to the trustees of the schools, calling their attention to the Conference and asking them to attend the Conference, to organize their school districts for the Conference, and to take advantage of the opportunities offered.

The farm demonstrator, who is a member of the Advisory Committee of the Council of Defense, can help by disseminating information among the masses and getting the agricultural organizations interested in the success of the meeting, and by participating in the program.

The high schools of the county seat and the county can help by practicing community and patriotic singing and adjourning on the day of the Conference and participating in the song service.

The different war organizations, including the Council of Defense, Food and Fuel Administrations, Liberty Loan, Woman's War Work, War Savings, Red Cross, Knights of Columbus, Y. M. C. A., Four-Minute Men, Chambers of Commerce, Educational and Agricultural Organizations, and all other patriotic activities, can help by putting themselves affirmatively behind the Conference and using such influence as they have in making the work of all of the different war efforts a success.

The Woman's organizations of the county can help by putting their splendid organizations to work in an endeavor to make the meeting productive of the highest results.

The Commercial Clubs and Chambers of Commerce can help to do effective work by arousing and informing the citizenship of their community concerning the seriousness of the war as well as ways and means of winning it by using printed posters or placards in conspicuous places throughout the county.

Traveling men going over the county usually are most willing to render service by working up meetings.

The Four-Minute Men can help by calling the attention of the people to the work of the Conference.

The Boy Scouts can help by advertising the meeting, by having demonstrations and carrying banners with appropriate mottoes and inscriptions upon them. Also in putting up placards and distributing advertising matter.

The different choirs of the different churches, as well as all of the people of the county, can help by getting together and practicing community singing with a view to making it one of the leading features of the Conference.

All others can help by talking about the Conference, by boosting it, and by getting the citizens of the county interested in it and its work.

Persons desiring further information concerning the War Conference, should address the Publicity and Speakers' Bureau Committee, Kentucky Council of Defense, Bowling Green, Ky.

SECTARIANISM IS SWEEPED ASIDE FOR 3RD LIBERTY LOAN

CATHOLICS, PROTESTANTS AND JEWS DESIGNATE APRIL 7 AS LIBERTY LOAN SUNDAY.

SERMONS FROM ALL PULPITS

Patriotism, Loyalty and Duty to Support Country in Present Crisis to Be the Theme for All Pastors.

The churches of metropolitan St. Louis will observe the first Sunday in April as Liberty Loan Sunday.

There are about 400 parish churches of every faith, Protestant, Roman Catholic and Jewish, but no sectarian line will be drawn when it comes to the work for Uncle Sam in crushing once and for all the unfathomable iniquity of Prussianism.

Quite all that was necessary was merely to suggest April 7 as Liberty Loan Sunday to get the wonderful response that is coming daily into headquarters of the Liberty Loan Organization. The loyalty of all the churches is doubly assured in these responses.

The Church Federation of St. Louis has a War Committee which is working out a formal set of suggestions how best each of the 135 churches in the federation may observe the Sunday nearest to the first anniversary of America's declaration of war with Germany.

The Rev. John W. MacIvor, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, is chairman of this committee. Associated with him are the Very Rev. Carroll M. Davis, dean of Christ Church Cathedral (Episcopal), and Mr. John B. Edwards, a lawyer and a Baptist layman.

Archbishop John J. Glennon, who presides over the spiritual destinies of 490,000 Roman Catholics in the Archdiocese of St. Louis, is heart and soul with the purposes of the United States government, and has informed the Central Committee of the Liberty Loan Organization that he will be only too glad to do anything and everything he can to aid his country in raising the Third Liberty Loan. The metropolitan has 96 parishes in the city limits of St. Louis and 145 other parishes in the rural territory from which St. Louis obtains its staff of life in more senses than one.

The Jewish community of St. Louis is an important one, comprising about 50,000 souls, according to a conservative estimate. Both the orthodox and the reformed wings of Judaism are intensely loyal to their country. Their rabbis will do everything in their power to enlist the active support of their religious followers in the Third Liberty Loan.

Each of the great religious sects will, of course, have their own peculiar method of approach to the great task, but there is going to be a most healthy and friendly rivalry imaginable between them for the honor of doing the most by their beloved President.

The St. Louis plan is to utilize every pulpit, every church bulletin, every religious channel of communication, every denominational organ, of whatever name or circulation, in the common labor of raising the necessary funds to sustain our soldiers and sailors, wherever they are.

Doubtless this plan will be extensively followed in all the church centers of influence throughout the Eighth Federal Reserve District.

VIRILE MESSAGE FROM BISHOP D. S. TUTTLE

Celebrated Episcopalian Makes Strong Plea for His Country.

A message by Bishop Daniel Sylvester Tuttle of Missouri always commands national attention. He is presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church. He has been a bishop for more than 61 years and a clergyman for nearly 60 years. He comes of Revolutionary stock and is president of the Missouri Sons of the Revolution.

Though in his eighty-second year, the venerable bishop is as vigorous and as alert as he ever was, a veritable watchman on the tower of his country. When he learned of the great Liberty Loan drive to begin April 6, Bishop Tuttle wrote in an autograph letter the following virile message:

"Fellow Americans: All that we are in good will and strong nerve and all that we have of spare means should be at the service of our country, now that she is in a determined struggle for her own safety and for international rights and for freedom and justice and fair play for all the world.

"It's a time when, under the colors, and through Liberty Loans, and on the firing line, we should cry aloud with Shakespeare's Wolsey:

"Let all the ends thou aim'st at be thy country's, thy God's and truth's."

The picturesque ecclesiastic will in every way possible lend his voice and hand to see the Liberty Loan through.

A Liberty Bond buyer becomes a real fighting soldier for Uncle Sam.

BOND INVESTORS INCREASE BECAUSE OF LIBERTY BONDS

Sixteen Millions Expected to Participate in Third Liberty Loan.

More than 15,000,000 persons are expected to subscribe to the Third Liberty Loan. Four million subscribed to the first issue and about 11,000,000 to the second loan.

Sixteen million buttons for subscribers have been ordered by treasury officials for the Third Liberty Loan. The system of honor rolls in each municipality, community or business organization, bearing the names of subscribers, and of honor flags, to be given to each city exceeding its quota, is expected to stimulate the number of subscriptions. This plan will disclose who subscribes and who refuses to buy.

Extensive preparations have been made for advertising the Third Liberty Bond campaign. Requests have been received from hundreds of newspapers publishing Sunday editions for 10,000,000 inserts showing the honor flag in colors, to be distributed April 7. Two hundred foreign-language newspapers have requested supplies of poster supplements.

A special train carrying French war relics, accompanied by Liberty Loan speakers and wounded French soldiers, will travel through the South and Southwest and perhaps elsewhere.

The relics, which include some of the small guns, German helmets and other trophies, and Red Cross exhibits, recently were sent to the United States by the French government to assist in the bond campaign. The train will be sent through the St. Louis, Dallas and Atlantic federal reserve districts, starting April 6.

A LIBERTY LOAN PRAYER

St. Louis Minister Composes Appeal on Eve of His Departure For France.

Less than a week before he sailed for France in the service of the Y. M. C. A., Rev. Elmer T. Clark, Litt. D., former minister of the Shaw Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and former secretary of the St. Louis Ministerial Alliance, prepared the following prayer for the Third Liberty Loan for use on Liberty Loan Sunday, April 7th:

"Oh God, who dost ever guide the tread of the nation, born to serve mankind with an exalted unselfishness, bless all our people and their representatives in authority.

"In this time of crisis and judgment, inspire us to think, act and serve together in the common cause of a victorious righteousness. Touch our souls with a high sense of patriotic sacrifice. Consecrate our means as well as our men.

"Bless, we beseech Thee, the Third Liberty Loan with the benediction of Thy benignant favor. May no act of word from us impede its sanctified will. And arouse our enthusiasm to see it through to a most successful conclusion. Amen."

BUSINESS CONCERNS TABBED

Credit Men Keep Uncle Sam Posted on Ability to Buy.

Liberty Bond slackers among business houses throughout the nation are being revealed by credit men whose duty it is to analyze the financial statements of firms in all classes of trade.

Preliminary investigations of expert credit men in checking up the financial statements of many concerns in various businesses in all parts of the United States find that the percentage of Liberty Bonds of the first and second issues among their assets was startlingly small.

It has been suggested that banking institutions would be justified in bringing to the attention of their customers, particularly those who are borrowers, the necessity for these patriotic investments being made in reasonable proportions.

Credit men have undertaken to bring to the attention of the public the lukewarmness of many business houses in backing the government in its prosecution of the war. The government is in the war business not only to destroy Prussian autocracy but every vestige of disloyalty and opposition to the battle for world liberty.

It clear that the people of England are in dire need of food and that the man power of the nation is waning.

A member of the Archbishop's party said the distinguished Britons were surprised and delighted with the enthusiasm of the American people to support the war. He said Americans have come to a realization of what the threat of German domination means to the world, and especially to America. He explained that many persons in Great Britain were slow to realize the necessity for shedding their blood upon the battlefields of France to halt the Hun.

BY JUDGE H. C. BAKER.

No. 17.

The command of Gen. John H. Morgan was in Columbia three times during the war. The last time was when he was starting on his great raid north of the Ohio river. He was met here by a detachment of Wolford's cavalry and some Ohio soldiers, and a fight ensued in which Captain Jesse Carter was killed, three or four federal soldiers wounded, and two or more confederates killed. The fight occurred on the 3rd day of July, 1863, in the afternoon, and delayed the command some little time. It happened that I witnessed the fight from the upstairs window of the house which I now occupy, and I will describe what I saw of it from my standpoint. When I went home at noon, there were no soldiers of either side in town, and it was not known that any were near to us. I ate my dinner, and dropped down on my bed for an afternoon nap, but was awakened by rapid firing on the road in front of the house. On running to the window, and looking out, I saw a Union soldier going down the road at full speed, his head and body low down on the side of his horse, and a few feet behind him were three or four Confederates in hot pursuit, and shooting as rapidly as they could with pistols. They passed over the hill in the direction of town out of my sight. In a few minutes the Confederates came back, and took position behind a barn located near to what is now the George Kemp residence, but they remained there only a short time, and then rode on over the hill beyond what is now the Hindman residence. It was but a little while until Union soldiers appeared from the direction of town. Some of them took position behind the stable of which I have spoken, others behind a rail fence which ran to the Burksville road, near where the Stuts residence is now located, and another squad took position behind the college building. While this was occurring, there were signs of activity over the hill in the direction the confederate soldiers had gone. In a little while one gray coat, and then another, came cautiously over the brow of the hill, and took position behind trees in an old apple orchard where now stands the Rosenfield residence. Then the skirmish fire opened up from both sides—the federals shooting from the college, and from along the line of the old fence extending from the Burkesville road up back of the Cravens, now Hurt, property, while the confederates were posted in the orchard mentioned, and just over the brow of the hill. Brisk firing was kept up from these positions for quite a time. The Federals were evidently ignorant of the force with which they were contending, for they appeared the more aggressive. Three or four of them passed under the window where I was sitting. Not wishing them to enter the house, I ran down and locked the front door, and then returned to my former position of observation. About this time I saw a Federal officer on horseback riding up the road towards the confederates, accompanied by five or six soldiers on foot, who were walking by the fence, half stooped, so as not to be seen by the enemy. The officer, although between the two fires, rode quietly along in the middle of the road, apparently indifferent to the danger. I expected every moment to see him fall from his horse, as he was riding directly up to the Confederate line and seemed to be in easy range. If he knew his danger, he did not discover it by his conduct, for he rode as erect as if he had been in a place of absolute security. He had gone about one-third of the distance from my gate to the top of the hill, when the Confederates yelling the battle cry, in a long line dashed over the brow of the hill. At this point I felt that it was the part of prudence to retire from the window to a safer place. I did not see what became of the Federal officer, or of the men with him. The charge ended the fight.

When I went out, one of the soldiers who had passed under the window, was lying out near a side gate of the yard with a shattered leg, which had to be amputated, the confederates who had been killed in the fight were lying on the roadside, on some boards, which had been provided, and when I reached town, I learned that Capt. Carter was shot through the body, and was in a room of the hotel dying. Others were wounded in the fight, but not seriously.

I am satisfied Capt. Carter was the officer whom I saw go up the hill towards the Confederate line.

Capt. Carter was a Cumberland county boy, and entered the army from that county. Wolford held him in high esteem, and valued him as one of the most intrepid and dashing of his officers. The element of fear did not enter into his composition, and before his death he had won a reputation in other battles as a man of the highest courage. It was about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when he was shot, and he died during the night.

It was said that Col. Adams and Major A. T. Keene, of the same command, followed with a small force, and arriving in the neighborhood of Columbia after the fight, and learning that Capt. Carter was wounded and dying, Maj. Keene in disguise, entered the town, while Morgan's force was passing, went to the room of his dying comrade, and remained with him until his death. He and Carter were from the same county.

It was after this fight, and immediately upon the entry of the Confederates into town, that Ben Lee Hardin and James B. Baker, then young men, narrowly escaped death in a summary way. They were charged with firing on the first soldiers who entered the town, and were arrested and taken out behind the old clerk's office to be shot, and would have been executed, had it not been for the intercessions and statements of Col. Cravens and Nat Gaither, who convinced Col. Morgan that the charge against them was false, and that the shooting complained of was done by soldiers, and not by the boys. It was while they were standing at the back wall of the clerk's office, that Jim said to Ben, "Well, Ben, they will be bad off for bass singers in town when we are gone." I doubt whether they fully appreciated the danger of their position at the time, for it was said the man who commanded the squad which arrested them, was a man of evil reputation.

Several years after the war, I met Col. Morgan, and in a conversation in regard to the fight here, he mentioned the circumstance of the arrest of the boys on the charge of firing on the troops, and how near they came to death, not knowing, until I told him, that one of them was my brother.

It was the day after the fight here when the battle of Green river occurred, in which Col. Chenault, Maj. Brents, and many other confederates were killed, and in whose memory the monument at that place was erected.

To be continued next week.

Adair County News.

Columbia, Ky.

Dear Patriots:—

Will try and give another sketch of life with Uncle Sammy.

We had been here one month the 15th of this month, and have all gotten along very nicely.

We have worked on everything from a block of casting to making hammers, bicycles and numerous other things. The work we are doing at present is only preparatory, teaching us to do all work accurate to the thousandth part of an inch, which is necessary to the work we will do across in France.

I was first placed in the auto mechanics, but an account of my eyes being defective, I was kept in the Hospital for a period of nine days and when I returned I was placed in the gunsmith's company. We have the best instructors in the U. S., the best to be found.

We have been visited by all the High officials of Washington, D. C., and they praised our work highly and have a sample of our work sent to Washington, D. C., for inspection. I feel like I will make good as I have made 100 per cent., at each examination.

We all look quite a little different since we have been uniformed and are feeling much better as they feed everything that is served on the table in the United States, except butter-milk, and we can get that up town at night.

Our work is hard enough to make us eat anything and relish it. About 3 or 4 hours drilling and 9 hours work. We get about an hour at each meal for rest and we us it.

We have been to some lectures of Canadian and American soldiers, who have been in the front line trenches in France. Some had both legs shot off, some eyes out, others had both arms off and still some had had an attack of the deadly poisonous gas put out by the Germans. This gas has almost the same effect as tuberculosis, with the exception it causes them to lose their voice partially, if not totally, and also their sense of smell. After you see these real sights of actual trench warfare, it makes you more patriotic. It makes one want to cross the pond and help exterminate the Huns as soon as possible.

It is hinted to us that we will go to school again, after we are through here, about 3 more weeks, to Philadelphia, Penn. Most of the soldiers seem to be in good spirits, but of course we have a few growlers and dead-heads and their associates are few.

Taylor and Bailey are getting along fine, looking good and making excellent soldiers.

We praise Kentucky's last movements in the Liberty Loan. The first State over the top. Hurrah!

Sincerely,
W. V. Helm,
